

"We Create"

Clueless Fashion - DS

House M.D. - PC Flash

Marker Man Adventures - DS

Babysitting Mania - DS

If, as the adage goes, a picture tells a thousand words, then our logo says it all. A translation of the ancient glyphs provides our company credo - We Create - and it is this credo that is the driving force of both our overall goal and our day-to-day activities.

We create fun in every game we develop. If the game isn't fun, there's not much point in developing it, so this is first and foremost in our minds.

We create value in our games. It is our goal to always give the customer more than they expect. Whether it's refining a piece of artwork to make it just so, packing in one extra level or scenario just because we have the space or tweaking the game's Artificial Intelligence to make a more believable computer opponent, we take the extra steps to add value to our games.

Services

Glyphic Entertainment is committed to creating fun, high value computer and video games. Utilizing efficient, cost effective development techniques, we provide our clients the opportunity to maximize profit on their project, be it a complex next-generation console game readied for worldwide retail release, or a simple downloadable puzzler designed to generate immediate revenue through their own web portal.

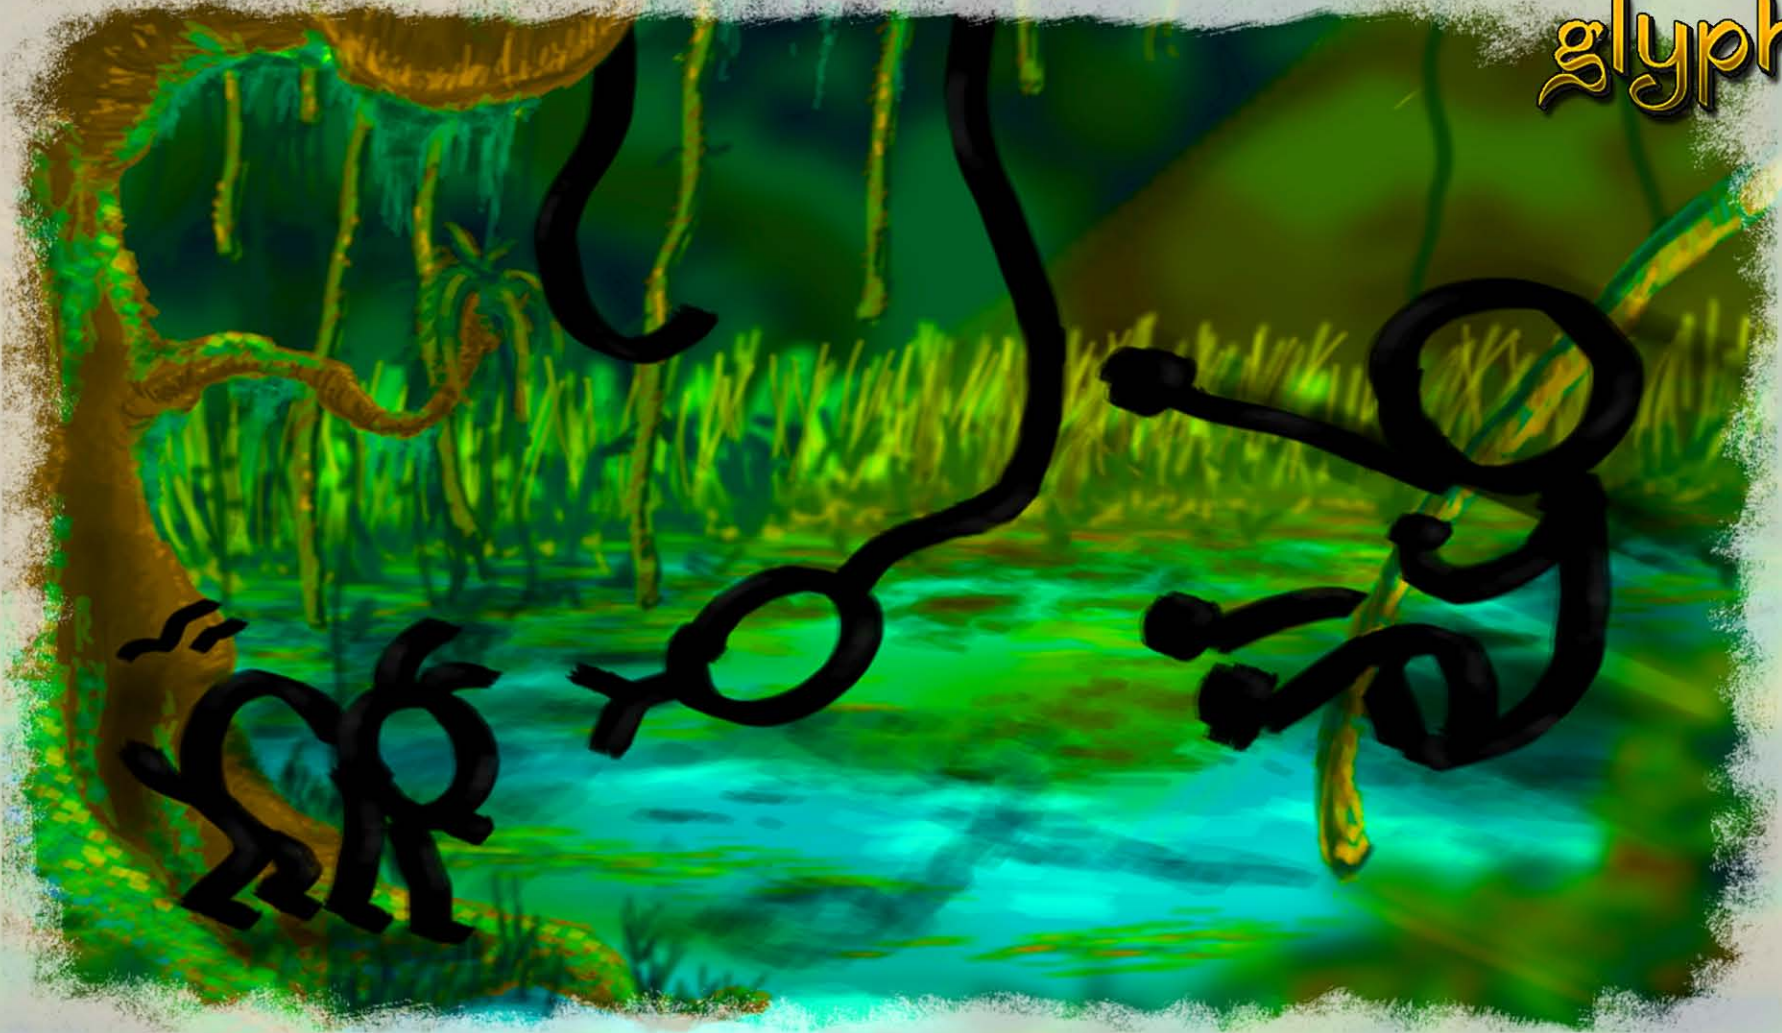

Our staff has over 60 man-years of development experience in the scientific and gaming industries to such diverse platforms as PC, PC Flash, PS1, PS2, Xbox, Pocket PC and Smartphone, J2ME, Nintendo DS and Wii, and Apple iPhone. Allow us to show you how we can leverage our talents to make your next project a success.
